One Good Turn...

YOUNG PHILANTHROPY

Mr. John Pandolfi, conductor of the Mattapoissett Band, was presented a gift of $6. to the band at the concert a week ago. Here, Mr. Pandolfi, is surrounded by local girls who worked to make handcrafts for the last few weeks, held a sale and presented the profits to the band and the town library. Cassandra Smith, Tina Gibbons, Diane and Valerie Putman are shown (left to right) with the conductor. With the money was this note: "Dear Mr. Pandolfi: We had a sale

FLYING TACKLE STOPS VC SUSPECT

A persistent Seabee, undaunted by a suspected Viet Cong's swift-footed and agile abilities, captured the man with a flying tackle.

The Seabee is Constructionman Russell W. Chase, Jr. 21, of Dublin, New Hampshire and a former resident of Mattapoisett. He is a builder with NMCB-133, Phu Bai. Chase was part of a culvert crew working outside a small village south of Hue, Vietnam, Saturday, June 8th. The men heard

The new owners have added a garden to the already lovely grounds which overlook Mattapoissett Harbor towards Mattapoissett Neck.

The east wing was added in 1900. It consists of a huge living room, with fireplace, on the first floor, and a bedroom of equal size, also with fireplace, on the second floor.

The dining room set, purchased in 1900, originally had sixteen ribbon-back Chippendale chairs. There is also a beautiful large Sevres compote here.

fireplaces which add to the charm of this spacious house.

The John Nosworthy Home, Shipyard Lane, Mattapoissett. This lovely home, overlooking Mattapoissett Harbor, is the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. John Nosworthy. The original house of "Cape Cod" architecture was built as a wedding gift for the bride of Samuel Lothrop. A third story was added later.

Outstanding Colonial furniture can be seen in this home. One piece, however, is missing. During the 1938 hurricane the water came up to the house and washed away a baby grand piano.

White Whale, Harbor Road, Mattapoissett Neck. This beautiful estate, home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Frowenfeld, was built in 1932 by the stage and screen actor, Billy House. This house is known for its unusual architecture. When viewing the cathedral ceiling, balcony, and sunken living room, one can understand why this estate was selected by the "Boston Globe" as one for their series on "Interesting New England Homes", several years ago.

The spacious lawns and gardens leading to the waters of Mattapoissett Harbor and Buzzards Bay are a sight to behold.

"Pamacle", Ocean Drive, Mattapoissett Neck. The summer home of the Paul Duchaine family is a fourteen-room house standing on ten acres of beautifully landscaped lawns. In the spring rhododendrons, bordering the drive, are a breathtaking sight.

The living room, dining room and breakfast room have large windows overlooking Mattapoissett Harbor. The private beach and dock are also seen from here. A nautical theme prevails in the decor of this beautiful home built in the 1940's by Maurice Duchaine, father of the present owner.

The former garage is now a playroom for the five lively children to enjoy. Would you like to know from what the name "Pamacle" is derived? It is a combination of the names of Mr. Maurice Duchaine's children: Paul, Maurice and Claire.

Refreshments will be served on the beautiful lawn of this estate.

Also on the tour will be the Mattapoissett Historical Society, Church and Baptist Streets, and St. Philip's Episcopal Church, Water Street.

The Museum is the meeting house of the Mattapoissett Christian Church. This building was erected in 1821 when Mattapoissett was entering its heyday of shipbuilding and whaling. The pulpit and pews have been restored and are of great interest. The large chandelier is beautiful, and originally hung in the old Universalist Church which was located on the corner of Church and Barstow Streets.

ART EXHIBIT BY EDITH LONDON

Edith London's art is rooted in nature. There is a quiet strength in the low key colors. Quite often she chooses the Cape Cod seashore for her inspiration. We are able to perceive smart flights of sea birds in the mist of morning, dissembled squares facted by the rising light, moved by the coming and going of so many wings; sunken nets, or parts where illusion of towers and silos speaks gently. It has been said that she captures the "soul" of the landscape leaving only the essential to emerge, the rest to be guessed at because of the masses of shadow and the rays of light. And so, the Cecil Clark Davis Gallery of the Marion Art Center proudly announces the opening of the Edith London Show - August 3 through also attended the British Academy in Rome.

In Paris she studied with Marcel Gromaire

Edith London has exhibited her work all most enthusiastically received. Now, after

Yacht Club Regatta

WHITNEY WINS STACKPOLE TROPHY
IN VICTORY IN KEEWAYDIN - Class A

Under sunny skies with fresh 15-25 knot southwest winds, the Mattapoissett Yacht Club held its 18th annual Regatta Saturday, July 27th, with 91 boats in ten classes competing.

Thomas H. P. Whitney skippered his Kee-waydin to victory in Cruising Class A to win the Stackpole Trophy. It was the only starter in Class A to complete the course under the time allowance.

The colorful Regatta began with the first gun sounding at 1 P.M. from the race committee boat, anchored off Ned's Point at the entrance to Mattapoissett Harbor.

Cruising Class A were the first boats to start, sailing a 22.7 mile course in Buzzards Bay, which took them almost to the entrance to the canal.

Cruising Class B and Cruising Class C

Spindrift II, skippered by C. Young, off to a brisk start in the Cruising Class B craft sailed a shorter course in the middle of Buzzards Bay.

In Cruising Class B, Logan Doane in Yankee Too, led the 9-boat fleet throughout the race to win first place. Naiad, skippered by Commodore Charles Pieper, placed second on corrected time, with Myron Lewis' Fuzz II, third.

John Malcolm's Caroline won the Cruising Class C event, with Thomas Hiller in Monsoon second, and Quiver, skippered by Robert Grindrod, third.

The remaining seven divisions sailed shorter courses.

Ed Schev's Sabre took the win in the Shields, followed by Bill Cudahy in Marlee, with Peter Godfrey in Egide, third.

The Tempests listed Wiley Wakeman's Frantic as the victor, with W. G. Saltonstall's Williway, second, and Dave La Greze's Minivet, third.

Capeway Little League

The Capeway All-Star team has shown up well in the first weekend of the Acushnet All-Star Tournament, with a record of 1 win and 1 loss.

Capeway lost a tight one to Greater New Bedford by a score of 4-3 with John Alves providing all the runs with a smash over the left field fence. David Downing pitched a 4-hit game in a losing effort. Greater New Bedford - 4 runs, 4 hits and 1 error. Capeway, 3 runs, 6 hits and 2 errors.

The second game saw the Capeway All-Stars beat Freetown in another close contest, 1-0. Paul Empey pitched a 3-hit shutout in the winning effort. David Downing hit a ground rule double, driving in the winning run. Capeway, 1 run, 7 hits and 1 error. Freetown, 0 runs, 3 hits and 1 error.

Some excitement was provided in the New Bedford tilt when Capeway's David Mac Lean was injured sliding into second base, and had to be carried from the field. Fortunately, it turned out to be only a bad strain and he should see action next weekend. Gregg Donahue of Marion, playing second base, has provided some of the best fielding plays seen in a long time.

The semi-finals and finals will be held next weekend in Acushnet. All Capeway parents and friends should turn out to cheer their team to victory.

The Greater New Bedford tournament will get underway the next weekend, August 9th, for four weekends. Capeway will be competing against 17 other teams.

At a recent Fair committee meeting held in the Grange Hall with Leonard Randall, chairman, and Otto Kellish, co-chairman, plans were made for the annual Agriculture Fair, sponsored by Mattapoissett Grange in conjunction with the Massachusetts State Department of Agriculture.

The date set is Saturday, August 24th, in the Grange Hall, at 1 P.M. Persons wishing to exhibit vegetables, flowers, canning, fancy work or any kind of handcraft, may contact the chairman or co-chairman for a premium list and any needed information.

The following are chairman for the various tables: Mary Costa, food; Marguerite Vaughan, gift and fancy work table; Susan LaFleur, penny sale.

Entries in the State Grange sewing projects will be exhibited and judged under the direction of Ruby Barber, chairman of the Home and Community Sewing committee of the Mattapoissett Grange.

A basket of groceries and a lovely hand embroidered tablecloth, with many other things will be awarded during the evening. Flower arrangements will be by Mrs. Otto Kellish.

happily welcomed.

It is learned that the Rev. James E. Gardner, rector for July, will be conducting courses in the study of Religion at Bucknell University in Pennsylvania, starting in September, 1968. He and his family carry the good wishes of his Mattapoisett friends.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

We think Mr. Pandolfi should be commended for his decision to continue the concerts after such shabby treatment. Of course he is a big man and the one who threw the egg has a very small mind to get pleasure from such an act.

It takes a big person to remember the many and forget the few who are too small even to understand his decision to continue.

Special additive in today's Shell Heating Oil helps give more warmth per gallon, top heating performance

There's a new additive in today's Shell Heating Oil. Called FOA-5X, this Shell product works round the clock to protect your fuel system—from storage tank to burner head. FOA-5X helps reduce build up of heat-robbing deposits that can collect in critical areas of your burner. It lets Shell Heating Oil burn in a radiant, even flame. It helps reduce service calls and expense. The result: more warmth per gallon of fuel—top performance at minimum cost. Before you buy your next gallon of heating oil, call us. We will give you complete details about Shell Heating Oil with FOA-5X and about our service.
